CASE NO:

CLASS ACTION

COMPLAINT FOR CONSTITUTIONAL AND STATUTORY
DAMAGES,
DECLARATORY, AND
INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

DEMAND FOR JURY
TRIAL

COMPLAINT

1 1. Plaintiffs, on behalf of themselves and a class of similarly situated persons, bring this
2 action and allege upon personal knowledge and belief as to their own acts, and upon information and
3 belief (based on the investigation of counsel) as to all other matters, as to which allegations Plaintiffs
4 believe substantial evidentiary support exists or will exist after a reasonable opportunity for further
5 investigation and discovery, as follows:

6
7 PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

8 2. This case challenges an illegal and unconstitutional program of dragnet
9 communications surveillance conducted by the National Security Agency (the “NSA”) and other
10 Defendants in concert with major telecommunications companies (“Defendants” is defined
11 collectively as the named defendants and the Doe defendants as set forth in paragraphs 25 through 12 38 below).

13 3. This program of dragnet surveillance (the “Program”), first authorized by Executive 14 Order of the President in October of 2001 (the “Program Order”) and first revealed to the public in 15 December of 2005, continues to this day.

16
17 4. Some aspects of the Program were publicly acknowledged by the President in 18 December 2005 and later described as the “terrorist surveillance program” (“TSP”).

19 5. The President and other executive officials have described the TSP’s activities, which 20 were conducted outside the procedures of the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act (“FISA”) and 21 without authorization by the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Court (“FISC”), as narrowly targeting 22 for interception the international communications of persons linked to Al Qaeda.

24 6. The Attorney General and the Director of National Intelligence have since publicly
25 admitted that the TSP was only one particular aspect of the surveillance activities authorized by the 26 Program Order.

27
28

1 7. In addition to eavesdropping on or reading specific communications, Defendants
2 have indiscriminately intercepted the communications content and obtained the communications
3 records of millions of ordinary Americans as part of the Program authorized by the President.

4 8. The core component of the Program is Defendants' nationwide network of 5 sophisticated communications surveillance devices, attached to the key facilities of 6 telecommunications companies such as AT&T that carry Americans' Internet and telephone
7 communications.

8 9. Using this shadow network of surveillance devices, Defendants have acquired and 9 continue to acquire the content of a significant portion of the phone calls, emails, instant messages,
10 text messages, web communications and other communications, both international and domestic,
11 of practically every American who uses the phone system or the Internet, including Plaintiffs and 12 class members, in an unprecedented suspicionless general search through the nation's 13 communications networks.

14 10. In addition to using surveillance devices to acquire the domestic and international
15 communications content of millions of ordinary Americans, Defendants have unlawfully solicited
16 and obtained from telecommunications companies such as AT&T the complete and ongoing
17 disclosure of the private telephone and Internet transactional records of those companies' millions
18 of customers (including communications records pertaining to Plaintiffs and class members),
19 communications records indicating who the customers communicated with, when and for how long,
20 among other sensitive information.

21 11. This non-content transactional information is analyzed by computers in conjunction 22 with the vast quantity of communications content acquired by Defendants' network of surveillance 23 devices, in order to select which communications are subjected to personal analysis by staff of the 24 NSA and other Defendants, in what has been described as a vast "data-mining" operation.
25
26
27
28

12. Plaintiffs and class members are ordinary Americans who are current or former subscribers to AT&T's telephone and/or Internet services.

13. Communications of Plaintiffs and class members have been and continue to be illegally acquired by Defendants using surveillance devices attached to AT&T's network, and Defendants have illegally solicited and obtained from AT&T the continuing disclosure of private communications records pertaining to Plaintiffs and class members. Plaintiffs' communications or activities have been and continue to be subject to electronic surveillance.

14. Plaintiffs are suing Defendants to enjoin their unlawful acquisition of the communications and records of Plaintiffs and class members, to require the inventory and destruction of those that have already been seized, and to obtain appropriate statutory, actual, and punitive damages to deter future illegal surveillance.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

15. This court has subject matter jurisdiction over the federal claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331, 18 U.S.C. § 2712, and 5 U.S.C. § 702.

16. Plaintiffs are informed, believe and thereon allege that Defendants have sufficient contacts with this district generally and, in particular, with the events herein alleged, that Defendants are subject to the exercise of jurisdiction of this court over the person of such Defendants and that venue is proper in this judicial district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391.

17. Plaintiffs are informed, believe and thereon allege that a substantial part of the events giving rise to the claims herein alleged occurred in this district and that Defendants and/or agents of Defendants may be found in this district.

18. Intradistrict Assignment: Assignment to the San Francisco/Oakland division is proper pursuant to Local Rule 3-2(c) and (d) because a substantial portion of the events and omissions giving rise to this lawsuit occurred in this district and division.

19. Plaintiffs have fully complied with the presentment of claim provisions of 28 U.S.C. § 2675, as required for their claims under 18 U.S.C. § 2712. Plaintiffs timely served notice of their

1 claims on the NSA and the Department of Justice on December 19, 2007, and over six months have
2 passed since the filing of that notice.

3 PARTIES

13 in office since October 2005. Previously, Defendant Addington served as legal counsel to the Office
14 of the Vice President. Defendant Addington was personally involved in the creation, development 15 and implementation of the Program. On information and belief, Defendant Addington drafted the 16 documents that purportedly authorized the Program.

17 32. Defendant Department of Justice is a Cabinet-level executive department in the 18 United States government charged with law enforcement, defending the interests of the United States
19 according to the law, and ensuring fair and impartial administration of justice for all Americans.

1 General, Defendant Gonzales authorized and approved the Program on behalf of the Department of 2 Justice.

3 35. Defendant John D. Ashcroft is the former Attorney General of the United States, in 11 office from April 2005 to February 2007. As DNI, Defendant Negroponte had authority over the 12 activities of the U.S. intelligence community, including the Program.

13 38. At all times relevant hereto, Defendants Doe Nos. 1-100, inclusive (the “Doe 14 defendants”), whose actual names Plaintiffs have been unable to ascertain notwithstanding
15 reasonable efforts to do so, but who are sued herein by the fictitious designation “Doe # 1” through 16 “Doe # 100,” were agents or employees of the NSA, the DOJ, the White House, or were other 17 government agencies or entities or the agents or employees of such agencies or entities, who 18 authorized or participated in the Program. Plaintiffs will amend this complaint to allege their true
19 names and capacities when ascertained. Upon information and belief each fictitiously named 20 Defendant is responsible in some manner for the occurrences herein alleged and the injuries to 21 Plaintiffs and class members herein alleged were proximately caused in relation to the conduct of 22 Does 1-100 as well as the named Defendants.

23 FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS RELATED TO ALL COUNTS

24 THE PRESIDENT’S AUTHORIZATION OF THE PROGRAM

25 39. On October 4, 2001, President Bush, in concert with White House Counsel Gonzales, 26 NSA Director Hayden, Attorney General Ashcroft and other Defendants, issued a secret presidential 27 order (the “Program Order”) authorizing a range of surveillance activities inside of the United States
28

1 without statutory authorization or court approval, including electronic surveillance of Americans'
2 telephone and Internet communications (the "Program").

3 40. This Program of surveillance inside the United States began at least by October 6, 4 2001, and continues to this day.

5 41. The President renewed and, on information and belief, renews his October 4, 2001
6 order approximately every 45 days.

7 42. The Program of domestic surveillance authorized by the President and conducted by 8 Defendants required and requires the assistance of major telecommunications companies such as 9 AT&T, whose cooperation in the Program was and on information and belief is obtained based on 10 periodic written requests from Defendants and/or other government agents indicating that the 11 President has authorized the Program's activities, and/or based on oral requests from Defendants
12 and/or other government agents.

13 43. The periodic written requests issued to colluding telecommunications companies,
14 including AT&T, have stated and on information and belief do state that the Program's activities
15 have been determined to be lawful by the Attorney General, except for one period of less than sixty 16 days.

17 44. On information and belief, at some point prior to March 9, 2004, the Department of 18 Justice concluded that certain aspects of the Program were in excess of the President's authority and 19 in violation of criminal law.

20 45. On Tuesday, March 9, 2004, Acting Attorney General James Comey advised the 21 Administration that he saw no legal basis for certain aspects of the Program. The then-current 22 Program authorization was set to expire March 11, 2004.

23 46. On Thursday, March 11, 2004, the President renewed the Program Order without a 24 certification from the Attorney General that the conduct it authorized was lawful.

25 47. On information and belief, the March 11 Program Order instead contained a
26 statement that the Program's activities had been determined to be lawful by Counsel to the President
27 Alberto Gonzales, and expressly claimed to override the Department of Justice's conclusion that the 28

1 Program was unlawful as well as any act of Congress or judicial decision purporting to constrain the 2 President's power as commander in chief.

3 48. For a period of less than sixty days, beginning on or around March 11, 2004, written 4 requests to the telecommunications companies asking for cooperation in the Program stated that the 5 Counsel to the President, rather than the Attorney General, had determined the Program's activities 6 to be legal.

7 49. By their conduct in authorizing, supervising, and implementing the Program,
8 Defendants, including the President, the Vice-President, the Attorneys General and the Directors of 9 NSA since October 2001, the Directors of National Intelligence since 2005 and the Doe defendants,
10 have aided, abetted, counseled, commanded, induced or procured the commission of all Program
11 activities herein alleged, and proximately caused all injuries to Plaintiffs herein alleged.

12 THE NSA'S DRAGNET INTERCEPTION OF COMMUNICATIONS TRANSMITTED
13 THROUGH AT&T FACILITIES

14 50. AT&T is a provider of electronic communications services, providing to the public 15 the ability to send or receive wire or electronic communications.

16 51. AT&T is also a provider of remote computing services, providing to the public
17 computer storage or processing services by means of an electronic communications system.

18 52. Plaintiffs and class members are, or at pertinent times were, subscribers to and/or 19 customers of AT&T's electronic communications services and/or computer storage or processing
20 services.

21 53. AT&T maintains domestic telecommunications facilities over which millions of 22 Americans' telephone and Internet communications pass every day.

23 54. These facilities allow for the transmission of interstate and/or foreign electronic voice 24 and data communications by the aid of wire, fiber optic cable, or other like connection between the 25 point of origin and the point of reception.

26 55. One of these AT&T facilities is located at on Folsom Street in San Francisco, CA
27 (the "Folsom Street Facility").
28

1 56. The Folsom Street Facility contains a “4ESS Switch Room.” A 4ESS switch is a
2 type of electronic switching system used to route long-distance telephone communications transiting
3 through the facility.

4 57. The Folsom Street Facility also contains a “WorldNet Internet Room” containing 5 large routers, racks of modems for AT&T customers’ WorldNet dial-up services, and other 6 telecommunications equipment through which wire and electronic communications to and from 7 AT&T’s dial-up and DSL Internet service subscribers, including emails, instant messages, Voice-
8 Over-Internet-Protocol (“VOIP”) conversations and web browsing requests, are transmitted.

9 58. The communications transmitted through the WorldNet Internet room are carried as 10 light signals on fiber-optic cables that are connected to routers for AT&T’s WorldNet Internet
11 service and are a part of AT&T’s Common Backbone Internet network (“CBB”), which comprises 12 a number of major hub facilities such as the Folsom Street Facility that are connected by a mesh of 13 high-speed fiber optic cables and that are used for the transmission of interstate and foreign 14 communications.

15 59. The WorldNet Internet Room is designed to route and transmit vast amounts of 16 Internet communications that are “peered” by AT&T between AT&T’s CBB and the networks of 17 other carriers, such as ConXion, Verio, XO, Genuity, Qwest, PAIX, Allegiance, Abovenet, Global 18 Crossing, C&W, UUNET, Level 3, Sprint, Telia, PSINet, and MAE-West. “Peering” is the process
19 whereby Internet providers interchange traffic destined for their respective customers, and for 20 customers of their customers.

21 60. Around January 2003, the NSA designed and implemented a program in 22 collaboration with AT&T to build a surveillance operation at AT&T’s Folsom Street Facility, inside
23 a secret room known as the “SG3 Secure Room”.

24 61. The SG3 Secure Room was built adjacent to the Folsom Street Facility’s 4ESS
25 switch room.

26 62. An AT&T employee cleared and approved by the NSA was charged with setting up
27 and maintaining the equipment in the SG3 Secure Room, and access to the room was likewise
28 controlled by those NSA-approved AT&T employees.

1 63. The SG3 Secure Room contains sophisticated computer equipment, including a
2 device know as aNarus Semantic Traffic Analyzer (the Narus STA”), which is designed to analyze 3 large volumes of communications at high speed, and can be programmed to analyze the contents and 4 traffic patterns of communications according to user-defined rules.

5 64. By early 2003, AT&T—under the instruction and supervision of the NSA—had 6 connected the fiber-optic cables used to transmit electronic and wire communications through the 7 WorldNet Internet Room to a “splitter cabinet” that intercepts a copy of all communications
8 transmitted through the WorldNet Internet Room and diverts copies of those communications to the 9 equipment in the SG3 Secure Room. (Hereafter, the technical means used to receive the diverted 10 communications will be referred to as the “Surveillance Configuration.”)

11 65. The equipment in the SG3 Secure Room is in turn connected to a private high-speed
12 backbone network separate from the CBB (the “SG3 Network”).

13 66. NSA analysts communicate instructions to the SG3 Secure Room’s equipment,
14 including theNarus STA, using the SG3 Network, and the SG3 Secure Room’s equipment transmits
15 communications based on those rules back to NSA personnel using the SG3 Network.

16 67. The NSA in cooperation with AT&T has installed and is operating a nationwide
17 network of Surveillance Configurations in AT&T facilities across the country, connected to the SG3
18 Network.

19 68. This network of Surveillance Configurations includes surveillance devices installed
20 at AT&T facilities in Atlanta, GA; Bridgeton, MO; Los Angeles, CA; San Diego, CA; San Jose CA;
21 and/or Seattle, WA.

22 69. Those Surveillance Configurations divert all peered Internet traffic transiting those 23 facilities into SG3 Secure Rooms connected to the secure SG3 Network used by the NSA, and 24 information of interest is transmitted from the equipment in the SG3 Secure Rooms to the NSA
25 based on rules programmed by the NSA.

26 70. This network of Surveillance Configurations indiscriminately acquires domestic 27 communications as well as international and foreign communications.

1 71. This network of Surveillance Configurations involves considerably more locations
2 than would be required to capture the majority of international traffic.

3 72. This network of Surveillance Configurations acquires over half of AT&T's purely
4 domestic Internet traffic, representing almost all of the AT&T traffic to and from other providers,
5 and comprising approximately 10% of all purely domestic Internet communications in the United 6 States, including those of non-AT&T customers.

7 73. Through this network of Surveillance Configurations and/or by other means,
8 Defendants have acquired and continue to acquire the contents of domestic and international wire
9 and/or electronic communications sent and/or received by Plaintiffs and class members, as well as 10 non-content dialing, routing, addressing and/or signaling information pertaining to those 11 communications.

12 74. In addition to acquiring all of the Internet communications passing through a number
13 of key AT&T facilities, Defendants and AT&T acquire all or most long-distance domestic and 14 international phone calls to or from AT&T long-distance customers, including both the content of 15 those calls and dialing, routing, addressing and/or signaling information pertaining to those calls,
16 by using a similarly nationwide network of surveillance devices attached to AT&T's long-distance
17 telephone switching facilities, and/or by other means.

18 75. The contents of communications to which Plaintiffs and class members were a party,
19 and dialing, routing, addressing, and/or signaling information pertaining to those communications,
20 were and are acquired by Defendants in cooperation with AT&T by using the nationwide network
21 of Surveillance Configurations, and/or by other means.

22 76. Defendants' above-described acquisition in cooperation with AT&T of Plaintiffs' and 23 class members' communications contents and non-content information is done without judicial,
24 statutory, or other lawful authorization, in violation of statutory and constitutional limitations, and 25 in excess of statutory and constitutional authority.

26 77. Defendants' above-described acquisition in cooperation with AT&T of Plaintiffs' 27 and class members' communications contents and non-content information is done without 28

1 probable cause or reasonable suspicion to believe that Plaintiffs or class members have
2 committed or are about to commit any crime or engage in any terrorist activity.

3 78. Defendants' above-described acquisition in cooperation with AT&T of Plaintiffs' and
4 class members' communications contents and non-content information is done without probable
5 cause or reasonable suspicion to believe that Plaintiffs or class members are foreign powers or agents 6 thereof.

7 79. Defendants' above-described acquisition in cooperation with AT&T of Plaintiffs' and 8 class members' communications contents and non-content information is done without any reason
9 to believe that the information is relevant to an authorized criminal investigation or to an authorized 10 investigation to protect against international terrorism or clandestine intelligence activities.

11 80. Defendants' above-described acquisition in cooperation with AT&T of Plaintiffs' and 12 class members' communications contents and non-content information was directly performed,
13 and/or aided, abetted, counseled, commanded, induced or procured, by Defendants.

14 81. On information and belief, Defendants will continue to directly acquire, and/or aid, 15 abet, counsel, command, induce or procure the above-described acquisition in cooperation with 16 AT&T, the communications contents and non-content information of Plaintiffs and class members.

17 THE NSA'S DRAGNET COLLECTION OF COMMUNICATIONS RECORDS FROM 18 AT&T DATABASES

19 82. Defendants have since October 2001 continuously solicited and obtained the 20 disclosure of all information in AT&T's major databases of stored telephone and Internet records,
21 including up-to-the-minute updates to the databases that are disclosed in or near real-time.

22 83. Defendants have solicited and obtained from AT&T records concerning 23 communications to which Plaintiffs and class members were a party, and continue to do so.

24 84. In particular, Defendants have solicited and obtained the disclosure of information
25 managed by AT&T's "Daytona" database management technology, which includes records
26 concerning both telephone and Internet communications, and continues to do so.
27
28

1 85. Daytona is a database management technology designed to handle very large
2 databases and is used to manage “Hawkeye,” AT&T’s call detail record (“CDR”) database, which 3 contains records of nearly every telephone communication carried over its domestic network since 4 approximately 2001, records that include the originating and terminating telephone numbers and the 5 time and length for each call.

6 86. The Hawkeye CDR database contains records or other information pertaining to 7 Plaintiffs’ and class members’ use of AT&T’s long distance telephone service and dial-up Internet
8 service.
9

10 87. As of September 2005, all of the CDR data managed by Daytona, when 11 uncompressed, totaled more than 312 terabytes.

12 88. Daytona is also used to manage AT&T’s huge network-security database, known as 13 “Aurora,” which has been used to store Internet traffic data since approximately 2003. The Aurora
14 database contains huge amounts of data acquired by firewalls, routers, honeypots and other devices
15 on AT&T’s global IP (Internet Protocol) network and other networks connected to AT&T’s network.
16

17 89. The Aurora database managed by Daytona contains records or other information
18 pertaining to Plaintiffs’ and class members’ use of AT&T’s Internet services.

19 90. Since October 6, 2001 or shortly thereafter, Defendants have continually solicited
20 and obtained from AT&T disclosure of the contents of the Hawkeye and Aurora communications
21 records databases and/or other AT&T communications records, including records or other
22 information pertaining to Plaintiffs’ and class members’ use of AT&T’s telephone and Internet
23 services.

24 91. The NSA and/or other Defendants maintain the communications records disclosed
25 by AT&T in their own database or databases of such records.
26

27 92. Defendants’ above-described solicitation of the disclosure by AT&T of Plaintiffs’
28 and class members’ communications records, and its receipt of such disclosure, is done without

1 judicial, statutory, or other lawful authorization, in violation of statutory and constitutional
2 limitations, and in excess of statutory and constitutional authority.

3 93. Defendants' above-described solicitation of the disclosure by AT&T of Plaintiffs'
4 and class members' communications records, and its receipt of such disclosure, is done without
5 probable cause or reasonable suspicion to believe that Plaintiffs' or class members have
6 committed or are about to commit any crime or engage in any terrorist activity.

7 94. Defendants' above-described solicitation of the disclosure by AT&T of Plaintiffs'
8 and class members' communications records, and its receipt of such disclosure, is done without
9 probable cause or reasonable suspicion to believe that Plaintiffs' or class members are foreign 10 powers or agents thereof.

11 95. Defendants' above-described solicitation of the disclosure by AT&T of Plaintiffs'
12 and class members' communications records, and its receipt of such disclosure, is done without any 13 reason to believe that the information is relevant to an authorized criminal investigation or to an 14 authorized investigation to protect against international terrorism or clandestine intelligence 15 activities.

16 96. Defendants' above-described solicitation of the disclosure by AT&T of Plaintiffs'
17 and class members' communications records, and its receipt of such disclosure, is directly 18 performed, and/or aided, abetted, counseled, commanded, induced or procured, by Defendants.

19 97. On information and belief, Defendants will continue to directly solicit and obtain 20 AT&T's disclosure of its communications records, including records pertaining to Plaintiffs and 21 class members, and/or will continue to aid, abet, counsel, command, induce or procure that conduct.

22
23 CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

24 98. Pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 23(b)(2), Plaintiffs Hepting,
25 Hicks, Jewel, Knutzen, and Walton bring this action on behalf of themselves and a class of similarly 26 situated persons defined as:
27
28

1 All individuals in the United States that are current residential subscribers or 2 customers of AT&T's telephone services or Internet services, or that were residential telephone or Internet subscribers or customers at any time after September 2001.

3 99. The class seeks certification of claims for declaratory, injunctive and other equitable
4 relief pursuant to 18 U.S.C. §2520, 18 U.S.C. §2707 and 5 U.S.C. § 702, in addition to declaratory
5 and injunctive relief for violations of the First and Fourth Amendments. Members of the class
6 expressly and personally retain any and all damages claims they individually may possess arising 7 out of or relating to the acts, events, and transactions that form the basis of this action. The 8 individual damages claims of the class members are outside the scope of this class action.
9

10 100. Excluded from the class are the individual Defendants, all who have acted in active
11 concert and participation with the individual Defendants, and the legal representatives, heirs,
12 successors, and assigns of the individual Defendants.

13 101. Also excluded from the class are any foreign powers, as defined by 50 U.S.C.
14 § 1801(a), or any agents of foreign powers, as defined by 50 U.S.C. § 1801(b)(1)(A), including 15 without limitation anyone who knowingly engages in sabotage or international terrorism, or 16 activities that are in preparation therefore.
17

18 102. This action is brought as a class action and may properly be so maintained pursuant 19 to the provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 23. Plaintiffs reserve the right to 20 modify the class definition and the class period based on the results of discovery.

21 103. Numerosity of the Class: Members of the class are so numerous that their 22 individual joinder is impracticable. The precise numbers and addresses of members of the class are 23 unknown to the Plaintiffs. Plaintiffs estimate that the class consists of millions of members. The 24 precise number of persons in the class and their identities and addresses may be ascertained from 25 Defendants' and AT&T's records.
26
27
28

1 104. Existence of Common Questions of Fact and Law: There is a well-defined
2 community of interest in the questions of law and fact involved affecting the members of the class.

3 These common legal and factual questions include:

4 (a) Whether Defendants have violated the First and Fourth Amendment rights of 5 class members, or are currently doing so;

6 (b) Whether Defendants have subjected class members to electronic surveillance,
7 or have disclosed or used information obtained by electronic surveillance of the class members, in 8 violation of 50 U.S.C. § 1809, or are currently doing so;

9 (c) Whether Defendants have intercepted, used or disclosed class members'
10 communications in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 2511, or are currently doing so;

11 (d) Whether Defendants have solicited and obtained the disclosure of the 12 contents of class members' communications in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 2703(a) or (b), or are 13 currently doing so;

14 (e) Whether Defendants have solicited or obtained the disclosure of non-content
15 records or other information pertaining to class members in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 2703(c), or are 16 currently doing so;

17 (f) Whether Defendants have violated the Administrative Procedures Act, 5
18 U.S.C. §§ 701 et seq., or are currently doing so;

19 (g) Whether the Defendants have violated the constitutional principle of 20 separation of powers, or are currently doing so;

21 (h) Whether Plaintiffs and class members are entitled to injunctive, declaratory,
22 and other equitable relief against Defendants;

23 (i) Whether Plaintiffs and class members are entitled to an award of reasonable 24 attorneys' fees and costs of this suit.

25 105. Typicality: Plaintiffs' claims are typical of the claims of the members of the class
26 because Plaintiffs are or were subscribers to the Internet and telephone services of Defendants.
27
28

1 Plaintiffs and all members of the class have similarly suffered harm arising from Defendants'
2 violations of law, as alleged herein.

3 106. Adequacy: Plaintiffs are adequate representatives of the class because their interests
4 do not conflict with the interests of the members of the class they seek to represent. Plaintiffs have 5 retained counsel competent and experienced in complex class action litigation and Plaintiffs intends
6 to prosecute this action vigorously. Plaintiffs and their counsel will fairly and adequately protect 7 the interests of the members of the class.
8

9 107. This suit may be maintained as a class action pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil 10 Procedure, Rule 23(b)(2) because Plaintiffs and the class seek declaratory and injunctive relief, and 11 all of the above factors of numerosity, common questions of fact and law, typicality and adequacy
12 are present. Moreover, Defendants have acted on grounds generally applicable to Plaintiffs and the 13 class as a whole, thereby making declaratory and/or injunctive relief proper.
14
